INSIDE VIEW

I recently returned from a 4,000-kilometre road trip, and somewhere along those highways I was reminded again of a truth truck drivers know all too well: the road can be a very lonely place. There is something about long hours behind the wheel that gives a person time to think. Mile after mile rolls by, towns come and go. The scenery changes, but the isolation often does not. Even for someone travelling for only a short period of time, the silence and separation can begin to weigh heavily. As drivers who spend days, weeks, or even months away from home, you know that feeling can become overwhelming. A crowded truck stop can still feel isolating. A busy highway can still feel empty.

Many drivers spend most of their lives alone in the cab of a truck. Conversations with dispatchers are brief and task focused. Phone calls home are often rushed between deliveries and appointments. Relationships can become strained under the pressure of time apart. Some drivers battle discouragement, anxiety, depression, or spiritual emptiness, quietly and privately, because they feel there is no one who really understands.

The Bible reminds us that God never intended for us to live isolated lives. Ecclesiastes 4:9-10 says, "Two are better than one… If either of them falls down, one can help the other up." A few verses later it goes on to say, "Though one may be overpowered, two can defend themselves. A cord of three strands is not quickly broken."

That image of a three-stranded cord is powerful. Alone, a single strand can easily fray under pressure. But when strands are woven together, they become much stronger. The same is true in life. We need one another. Each of us needs another person to come alongside us and support us. And we need God woven into our lives as the third strand, holding us together when the pressures of life begin to pull us apart.

Too often isolation breeds hopelessness. It whispers lies into people's hearts: Nobody cares. Nobody understands. You're completely alone. But those lies are not true.

One of the reasons we launched DriversMatter.ca is because we recognize this reality. Drivers matter to God, and they matter to us. Our desire is simple: to make sure no driver ever feels completely alone on the road.

Sometimes what a person needs most is simply someone willing to listen. And that's where we come in. We have someone waiting to answer the phone 24/7, to listen, not to judge. Not someone giving quick answers. Just someone who has spent part of their life on the road as well and who cares enough to hear the caller's story.

Human connection matters. Encouragement matters. In a world that often feels disconnected and impersonal, a caring voice can make an incredible difference.

I have met many drivers over the years who appear strong on the outside while carrying tremendous burdens internally—grief, marriage struggles, financial pressure, addiction, fear, loneliness, and spiritual questions they have wrestled with for years. Many feel trapped in endless cycles, driving farther and farther while feeling emptier and emptier inside.

But the good news of the Gospel is that Jesus cares, and He meets us right where we are. Jesus understands loneliness. He experienced rejection, abandonment, betrayal, and suffering. Yet, He also offers hope, peace, forgiveness, and the promise that we never walk alone. The Bible tells us that He will never leave us nor forsake us. That means even on the longest nights, the darkest highways, and the most difficult stretches of life, God is present.

If you are struggling today, please do not keep carrying those burdens alone. Reach out to someone. Talk to a trusted friend, family member, or a chaplain. Call our DriversMatter 24/7 helpline at 249-506-0100. Let someone stand beside you.

The road may be long, but you were never meant to travel it alone—and you don't have to.

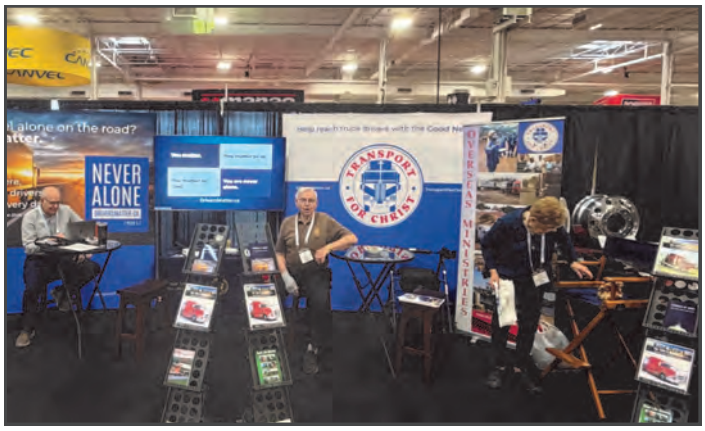
TFC and DriversMatter.ca At Truck World 2026



Truck World, known as Canada's premier gathering place for the trucking industry, was held over three days in mid -April in Toronto. With more than 500 exhibitors and many thousands of attendees, it provided an incredible opportunity for connection and community, and we were thankful to be part of it.

Transport For Christ and DriversMatter.ca hosted a large booth throughout the event, where our team had the opportunity to speak with a few thousand drivers, industry professionals, and guests about the ministry and the support available. The response was overwhelming, and the steady flow of visitors kept all six members of our team busy for most of the show. One morning during the event, we also hosted a breakfast for key industry stakeholders. This gave us the opportunity to share the vision behind the Drivers Matter helpline and build valuable partnerships to help spread the message throughout the trucking community.

Winners Take Home a Reminder That They Are Never Alone!

Throughout the show, hundreds of drivers and guests entered our draws to win one of our "Never Alone" travel mugs. We were privileged to give away 25 mugs during the event as reminders that no driver ever has to face the road—or life's struggles—alone. Several of the prize winners are pictured here.

HISTORY OUR STORY

Terry Wills

An Evil King meets a God of Grace

Manasseh, the longest-reigning king of Judah, came from a good heritage. He succeeded his father, King Hezekiah, who did "what was right in the eyes of the Lord" (2 Kings 18:3). King Hezekiah reformed the nation, restored worship to the true God, rid the country of idol worship, and reopened the temple to the God of Israel. He was a respected and godly leader.

Manasseh was just twelve years old when he became king and reigned for 55 years. Unlike his father, he was an evil king and led the nation into unprecedented depravity. He rebuilt the idol worship places his father had destroyed and bowed down to all the starry hosts and worshipped them (2 Kings 21:2-3). He took the carved idols he had made and put them in God's temple. He shed so much innocent blood that he filled Jerusalem from end to end. He led the nation to commit sins more grievously than all the nations around Judah. The Bible records that he even sacrificed his own sons in the fire to pagan gods.

The Lord spoke to Manasseh and his people, but they paid no attention. So, the Lord brought against them the army commanders of the King of Assyria. They took Manasseh prisoner, put a hook through his nose, bound him with bronze shackles, and took him to Babylon (2 Chronicles 33:10-11). In his distress, Manasseh sought the favour of the Lord. The Bible says that he humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers. And when he prayed to Him, the Lord was moved by his entreaty and listened to his plea for mercy (2 Chronicles 33:12-13).

Your life and story are important, and God has a special part of His Story to write with you specifically in mind. Throughout human history, He has chosen to interact with regular people like you and me to fulfil His plan. Each Christian, each follower of Jesus Christ, has a unique place in His Story.

Despite his years of rebellion, the God of Grace allowed him to return to Jerusalem and his kingdom was reestablished. A very different king returned to Jerusalem. He removed the foreign gods and cleared the temple of the idols that he had put there. He reinstated the worship of the true God and called the nation back to worship the Lord at His holy temple.

Unfortunately, many people did not follow him to worship the true God. His decades of leading the nation into a sinful and idolatry lifestyle changed the course of lives and families. An entire generation had been influenced by his wickedness, and the consequences of sin just did not disappear.

The story of Manasseh reminds us that no one is beyond the reach of God's grace and mercy when there is genuine repentance. Repentance is more than feeling bad about what we have done. True repentance means a total change of heart about our behaviours, a turning from a sinful lifestyle, and a turning back to God.

Real peace with God comes not from trying to work our way to heaven; it comes through faith in Jesus and acceptance of God's gift of grace—eternal life. The wonder of God's grace is that, in exchange for our sinful lives, He offers us new life through the death and resurrection of Jesus.

This sobering story also reminds us that while God's grace covers our sin, it does not always erase the scars. Manasseh left a legacy of leading the nation of Judah into a sinful and idolatrous lifestyle. While he repented and returned to the Lord, his legacy for many years was that "he did evil in the sight of the Lord."

As followers of Jesus, may we be encouraged to be His ambassadors, choosing to follow Him and share the love and truth of Jesus with those in our sphere of influence

A Beacon of Hope at Manatrade: The Easter Outreach

By Chaplain Brian Teputepu

Just one day before Good Friday, the community at the Manatrade truck stop in Beitbridge, Zimbabwe, was dealt a hard blow with the death of a groundsman in tragic circumstances. It was during this time that ACTSA (Association of Christian Truckers of Southern Africa) hosted their Easter Men's Padare* Outreach at Manatrade.

More than 60 men of the Beitbridge community, mostly truck drivers and workers at Manatrade, gathered for the event. Three pastors from local churches joined the outreach effort as we fielded questions, listened, and gave advice on issues of life, difficulties, faith, and one's purpose. Among the activities of the event, free haircuts and shaves were offered. As the clippers buzzed, conversations sparked easily with the men in the barber chairs and those waiting their turn.

Free haircuts and shaves were offered at the Easter Outreach.

The tragedy that had occurred the day before weighed heavily on the attendees and led to discussions on the meaning of life. The outreach provided comfort and a sense of spiritual perspective based on faith, enabling them to process issues that they may have been holding onto in isolation. The central message of the Easter resurrection resounded through the discussions and resonated deeply with the men in the community. By the end of the evening, five men had accepted Jesus Christ as their Lord and Saviour, and many received much needed prayer and counselling.

The success of the Padare outreach at Manatrade has resulted in many calls to do such events regularly. Leaders within the community, including the local police chaplain, have pledged to come and share keynote life lessons with truck drivers.

 "Padare" is a Shona word from Zimbabwe that translates to a "meeting place."*

Stuck at the Border for Two Weeks, He Heard a Message that Changed His Life

By Chaplain Enarrita Phiri

As we approached the Easter holidays, it was natural for us to spend time at the truck stops sharing with truck drivers the good news of God's salvation plan for mankind, focusing our messages on the significance of Easter—the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

At one truck stop that we rarely are able to visit, we met driver Richard. He was very cheerful as he accepted a copy of the magazine we offered him. In view of his welcoming attitude, we felt comfortable asking him about his experiences on the road as a truck driver. He said he was transporting huge solar equipment to a government solar plant project in Livingstone (a southern city in Zambia at the border with Zimbabwe) and was weary and frustrated because he had been waiting for his customs clearance papers for two weeks.

I told him how much we appreciated the work they do as truck drivers, delivering essential goods to different countries and taking risks to transport such big and expensive equipment like what he was carrying, which requires extra skill and caution to get it to its destination. Then I said, "You are taking such good care in doing your job well; now I wonder, are you taking the same good care of your soul? Do you know where you will spend eternity after this life?" As he listened, I continued, "We have come to share with you the good news of the true meaning of Easter—God's plan to save man from his sin and the penalty of death."

When I saw how receptive he was to the Word of God, I went through the ABCs at the back of the magazine with him and then asked if he wanted to receive Jesus as his Saviour and Lord. He readily accepted Him, and we prayed together for him.

Driver Richard was glad when Chaplains Stephen and Enarrita came to talk to him.

Going the Distance for the Sake of Truckers

By Chaplain Dr. Norbert Mbwiliza

One of the greatest sources of encouragement, for which we are so thankful to God, is to see truck drivers turning to God through the ministry of our chaplains. These servants of God walk long distances without complaints, sacrificing their comfort with one mission in their hearts—to make sure truck drivers hear the Good News of Jesus Christ.

Carrying Bibles and copies of the book Gift of Salvation, they travel from truck stop to truck stop, using these materials as tools for sharing the message of salvation, and truck drivers are opening their hearts to Christ, receiving prayer, encouragement, and the hope of eternal life.

As we continue to receive prayers, encouragement, and support, we believe this ministry will continue to expand day by day, reaching more truck drivers across Tanzania and beyond with the saving message of Jesus Christ.

To God be all the glory for every life being transformed through this mission!

Truckers received the literature with joy and gratitude

Known Company

My dad had a saying that many of you may be familiar with—"You're known by the company you keep." I remember one specific time when I was a teenager that he asked me if I was a smoker (user of tobacco). I responded with a resounding no and asked why he would assume such a thing? He explained to me that I was hanging around a bunch of young boys, many of whom smoked cigarettes. Unfortunately, he was correct in his assumption. I had started to smoke and lied to him about doing it; I had become like those I was spending time with.

Later in life (after I quit smoking), I adopted a mentor who really made a difference in my life. He was a skilled physician and, more importantly, a strong believer in Christ. He taught me many great things about the Lord and His Word, the Bible. He told me that we will always be surrounded by people in our lives, whether we like it or not. Now I know many of us become drivers so we can be by ourselves, but we are still influenced by others no matter how hard we try not to be.

My mentor explained that there is always someone above us that guides us and to whom we can go for advice. There are others on either side of us that are our peers. They are the ones that have similar interests in life and the ones that keep us accountable. Then there is someone below us that we're dragging along with us, someone that we have influence over.

The Apostle Paul, in the book of Philippians chapter three, talks about this very thing. In verse sixteen he says that we should "keep living by that same standard to which we have attained." This standard is one that strives to keep following Christ. One that continues to reach forward to what lies ahead. One that presses toward the goal that God has already called us to. Then in verse seventeen Paul says we should "join in following my example and observe those who walk according to the pattern you have in us." That's exactly what my mentor and my dad were trying to teach me.

Unfortunately, there is another side to this if we don't choose the right people to surround ourselves with. Paul says in verse eighteen that "many walk" like they "are enemies of Christ." Paul says he weeps for them because they should know better. He says that their end is destruction, and their appetite is based upon earthly things.

Please don't choose those types of people to surround yourself with. Choose friends who want to follow Christ and will help you do the same. If you're not sure if you're following Christ, please reach out to someone from this magazine today (see the phone number on the cover or page 11). I now know that my earthly father wanted only the best for me when he used to share his sayings with me, just like how my Heavenly Father wants what's best for me.

Nouvelles en Français du Québec

Par Jacques Poirier, Aumônier - Saint-Liboire, Québec

Bienvenue sur cette lettre de nouvelle. Je crois que tout le monde est intéressé lorsque l'on parle d'héritage. Dans ce texte nous allons analyser ensemble quelques facettes de phénomène social qu'est l'héritage.

L'héritage est normalement accordé à un fils, une fille, un parent ou quelqu'un qui a été désigné par celui ou celle qui lègue ses biens après son décès. Il existe peut-être d'autres cas que je ne connais pas, mais ceux-ci nous donnent une bonne idée et nous indique ou vont les biens d'une personne après son décès.

Pour avoir vécu moi-même une situation dans laquelle il a fallu régler la succession, je sais qu'il y a tout un processus à traverser des formulaires gouvernementaux ainsi que les rencontres avec un notaire, afin que tout l'aspect légal de la chose soit finalisé dans les normes requises. Souvent lorsque nous parlons d'héritage entre nous c'est un peu pour s'amuser, car nous sommes habituellement à discuter avec des amis tout en se taquinant. Je sais maintenant qu'il s'agit de quelque chose de très sérieux. Les héritiers se partagent les biens d'une personne qui est décédée et qui avait soi par lègue testamentaire ou que ce soient les ayants droit (héritiers légaux).

J'aimerais maintenant vous parler d'un tout autre héritage, que je crois beaucoup plus important que ce que nous rencontrons dans la vie courante. Dans l'évangile de Luc au chapitre 15 nous avons le récit de Jésus qui tente d'expliquer comment l'héritage des biens célestes va se dérouler. L'histoire se déroule à une époque bien différente de la nôtre mais il est facile de comprendre que l'histoire du fils prodigue est un enseignement sur le pardon inconditionnel du Père céleste envers tous ceux qui viendront à lui avec repentance.

Je vais maintenant vous parler d'une autre situation sur le même sujet. Ceux qui ont abandonné leur vie entre les mains de Dieu à travers le sacrifice de Jésus à la croix et qui ont expérimenté la nouvelle naissance sont devenus cohéritiers avec Jésus. C'est ce qu'affirme l'apôtre Paul dans l'épitre aux romains au chapitre huit.

La Parole de Dieu nous enseigne que chacun d'entre nous a le privilège de venir à la croix de se repentir en admettant qu'il est pécheur et qu'il a besoin de Jésus pour être sauvé du tourment éternel. L'héritage dont il est question ici est la vie éternelle en Jésus. L'abondance qui est réservée pour tous ceux qui auront été justifiés par le sacrifice de Jésus à la croix est éternelle et sans limite. Il n'y aura plus de misère plus de tristesse. La joie et une abondante paix sera notre lot pour l'éternité.

Recevez cette paix dès aujourd'hui et assurez-vous une place avec Jésus dans l'éternité.

Sur ces mots je vous souhaite d'avoir une vie remplie et heureuse!

Que la paix de Dieu vous accompagne!

Three Encounters...

By Chaplain Marcelo da Silva Soares

Three Lives Changed for Eternity

"Is there more to it?" he asked – and found out there was!

We saw truck driver Junior (green shirt) as he walked by the chapel and called out asking if he would like to have his blood pressure checked (one of the free services we offer to truckers). He came in to have it checked and hung around afterwards, talking with us. We eventually directed the conversation to spiritual matters, as he seemed open to it. He told us that he was Catholic but rarely attended church and his wife was protestant but had become somewhat inactive in her faith, so religion didn't really have much impact in their lives.

He then asked, "Is there more to it?" We told him about God's love and about His plan of salvation, then asked him if he would like to commit his life to Jesus, accepting Him as his Lord and Saviour. Joyfully he said "yes" and we prayed with him.

From Despondency to Joy

Trucker Ronaldo (grey shirt) came to talk to us, looking for someone to help him as he was facing a serious family crisis and was on the verge of separation. Although he was a very fervent practicer of his religion, it didn't give him a sense of peace and wasn't helping him with his problems. After hearing this, we showed him from God's Word that Jesus is the only one who can work real change in our lives and help us with our problems.

As he listened, we could see his expression changing from despondency into one of joy and hope as he committed his life to Christ. He said that as soon as he got back home, he would look for a good church that would help him learn God's Word and walk in His ways. He would seek God's help to change the circumstances of his life.

They Needed Help – and Found it

Sandro and his wife, Vanessa, reside in the Castro region here in Paraná, and came to the chapel to talk. They told us that they had walked away from their faith many years ago, and Sandro had struggled with chemical dependency. After telling us their life story, they said they had come to the realization that they needed a change in their lives and needed help.

Seeing their openness, we emphasized to them that true change must originate from within—and that can only happen through Christ. To the honour and glory of our Lord Jesus Christ, they renewed their covenant with Him, committing themselves to walk in His ways.

A Closing Word
From the Canadian Director

Loneliness

According to the World Health Organization, we are experiencing an epidemic of loneliness across the globe. Their research shows that social isolation and loneliness have a serious impact on physical and mental health, quality of life, and longevity.

This was one of the constant themes that we heard at Toronto's Truck World trade show in April as we spoke with thousands of drivers, mechanics, dispatchers, and industry executives. Social Isolation, loneliness and relational breakdown were not just brought up, but were being shared with heartfelt intensity. The whole transportation industry understands there is a crisis of loneliness, particularly among drivers. Solutions, however, seem to be evasive, especially for those of you who spend hours alone in the cab of your truck.

However, there is the reality that you don't have to allow aloneness (having no one around) turn to loneliness. First and most important, God promises to do life with you. God gives this promise in the Bible: "It is the LORD who goes before you. He will be with you; he will not leave you or forsake you. Do not fear or be dismayed" (Deuteronomy 31:8).

The God who is not limited by the physical constraints of being in one place, is able to be with you anywhere, anytime. Unlike you, He doesn't grow tired or weary. He is constantly available and ready for interaction.

The promise from God is deeper than merely being available, He is for you. He goes before you, He will be with you, He will not leave you or forsake you. Being forsaken (abandoned, betrayed, turned against) may be the most painful part of social isolation. Someone who was once there for you, now is completely against you. Maybe it is hard to imagine a God who doesn't turn against you, but this is what God promises you. He is for you.

God also wants to express some of His concern and care for you through human interaction. This is the reason why TFC has developed the DriversMatter helpline. By calling or texting 249- 506-0100, you can reach a chaplain who is ready to talk with you at any time. You don't have to be alone.

About the author: Dan joined the TFC team in April as the Canadian Director. Dan and his wife Lori have been married 41 years, and have pastored local churches for 39 of those. Dan has also served for the last dozen years as a Corporate Chaplain to one of the largest employers in his area. They have six children and nine grandchildren. Two of their sons work in the transportation industry. Dan brings a lot of passion and experience to his role and is excited to see how the Canadian ministry of TFC will develop.

Have you ever felt a pull to care for others?
Could you see yourself becoming a chaplain,
or volunteering as one,
to impact the lives of truckers?

With Transport For Christ, you can bring hope where it's needed most.

This ministry to the trucking industry is only possible thanks to generous donations from people just like you. Tax-deductible donations can be made in one of the following ways:

In Canada:
Online: Go to www.TransportForChrist.ca and choose "donate"
E-transfer: Send to donate@transportforchrist.ca

In the United States:
Go to www.gracechurchga.org/give; click the drop down menu and choose Overseas Ministries (TFC).

Or scan the QR code on the right.

Thank you for your partnership and support!

Do you know where you will spend eternity? You can – it's as easy as ABC...

A Admit that you have sinned.
"For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23).
"For the wages of sin is death…" (Romans 6:23a).
God loves us and wants a relationship with us; but He is holy and perfect and our sin separates us from Him.

B Believe that Jesus paid God's price for our sin when He died on the cross.
"But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8).
"…but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 6:23b).
God sent Jesus Christ to take the punishment for our sins on Himself, dying on the cross. When He rose from the dead on Easter morning, He broke the power of sin over those who choose to accept Him as their Saviour and Lord.

C Choose to accept Jesus' sacrifice for you and receive the free gift of forgiveness He offers.
"If you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you will be saved…For 'whoever calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved'" (Romans 10:9,13).
"If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9).

You CAN know where you will spend eternity. If you want to begin a relationship with God and allow Him to become your Forgiver and Saviour, pray this prayer and believe it in your heart: "God, I know that I have sinned and need forgiveness. Thank You for sending Jesus to pay the price for my sin so I can have a relationship with You. Today I put my trust in You. Become the leader of my life and help me to follow You from today forward. Amen."

If you prayed this prayer, we would like to help you begin your exciting new journey. Please send us an email to transportforchrist@outlook.com and let us know, so we can help you along this road.
