INSIDE VIEW

Over the past month I've had the incredible opportunity to travel across Canada—from the stunning mountains of British Columbia and the Pacific Ocean all the way to the calm shores of the Atlantic in New Brunswick. One thing was clear everywhere I went: Canada's truckers are the heartbeat of this country. No matter where I was, I saw drivers working through tough conditions, racing against tight deadlines, and still finding a moment to smile, wave, or help someone out. It was a powerful reminder of just how important—and how dedicated—you are.

As I travelled, I also met many people who truly appreciate what truckers do. These are folks who understand the personal sacrifices that come with the job—those long, lonely nights on the road, grabbing quick meals in the cab, missing family events that are happening hundreds of kilometers away. They may not be behind the wheel themselves but they see your dedication, and they're grateful for everything you do.

In my role, I often get to talk to people who want to support the trucking community. Whether it's business owners who rely on you, chaplains who are there for your emotional and spiritual needs, or generous donors who make it possible for this outreach to continue—the message is always the same: "Thank you". And to be honest, I don't think truckers hear that enough.

So let me say it loud and clear: You are seen. You are valued. You are appreciated. And not just by the people around you—but by God Himself. You may not always get public praise, but the truth is, our whole country relies on you. From groceries to fuel, from building supplies to medicine—you deliver the things we all depend on. Without you, everything would come to a stop.

There's a verse in the Bible, 1 Thessalonians 4:11-12, that talks about living a quiet life, working with your hands, and earning respect through your actions. That's exactly what you're doing. It's not always easy, and it often goes unnoticed, but there is real honour in what you do. And even when no one else sees the hard days, God does.

Let's be real—this job is tough. Being away from home, dealing with breakdowns, weather, tight schedules, and even rude people on the road—it wears you down. It takes a toll not just on your body but on your mind and heart too.

But here's something Jesus said that I hope brings you comfort: "Come to me, all you who are tired and carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest" (Matthew 11:28). That kind of rest isn't just about sleep—it's about finding peace in your soul. It's about knowing you're not alone in your cab. It's about finding strength that goes deeper than your next coffee. Sometimes it's found in a quiet moment—at a rest stop in Ontario, by a lake in BC, or on a ferry out east—just taking a minute to talk to God and let Him lift some of the weight off your shoulders.

He understands what you're carrying. He's close. Closer than your next breath. So please remember: You are not forgotten. You're not just another rig on the highway or a number in the system. You are a child of God—made for a purpose, deeply loved, and never alone.

If you want to know more about how to have a personal relationship with the God who loves you the most, take a look at the back page. We'd love to help you take that next step. Until then, keep rolling safe and steady. And know that this country—and your Creator—is grateful for every mile you drive.

Easter at the Beitbridge Border: Hope, Meals, and Movies with ACTSA

By Chaplain Brian Teputepu

Easter Service

On Easter weekend, while thousands celebrated with family and at church gatherings, the Association of Christian Truckers of Southern Africa (ACTSA) brought the celebration to the truck drivers who found themselves at the busy Beitbridge border post.

One-on-One Ministry on the Move

From sunrise to sunset, the ACTSA Easter outreach transformed Manatrade Truck Park into a place of prayer, fellowship, and spiritual renewal for the hardworking truckers navigating the Southern African corridor. The outreach had ACTSA volunteers and chaplains walking from truck to truck, sharing encouragement, listening to stories, and praying with drivers, in obedience to Matthew 28:19 which commands us to "Go into all the world, and preach the gospel." That message was emblazoned on T-shirts the team was wearing; they were also handed to drivers as gifts.

For many, it was the first time in months that someone had actually taken the time to talk to them – and, more importantly, to listen to them. To really hear them. "It's easy to feel unwanted in these parts of the world; truck drivers have a bad reputation out here," said one driver. "But today, you reminded me that God cares for truck drivers enough to send someone to bring the Good News." With every conversation, volunteers offered Gospel literature, Bibles, and the latest issue of Good News for Life's Highway magazine.

Evening Movie Night: The Gospel on the Big Screen

As night fell, a different kind of outreach began. Under the open skies at Manatrade Truck Park, truckers gathered for a special Easter-themed movie night, featuring a powerful film on the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. We used the white body of a parked truck to project the movie—bringing back memories of Jesus Film showings as many were growing up in Southern Africa.

Easter Ministry Group

Body and Soul: Meal Packs with a Message

To complete the outreach, ACTSA handed out meal packs as well as Gospel tracts, Bibles, and an open invitation to join the ACTSA family. By the end of the night, 12 truckers gave their lives to the Lord, committing themselves to a new journey of faith. Dozens more joined the growing ACTSA WhatsApp fellowship, a digital lifeline for spiritual support on the road.

The Road Ahead

Easter may be over, but the impact lingers. From border posts to truck stops, ACTSA continues to serve as the hands and feet of Christ in this region. We thank every volunteer, supporter, and donor who made the Beitbridge outreach possible.

Trucker Surprised Upon Hearing He's Appreciated!

By Chaplains Enaritta and Dailes

We approached driver Arnold when he was exchanging money with street foreign currency dealers. At first he ignored us, but after a few minutes he came from the back of his truck to the front to meet us. We introduced ourselves, but when we mentioned that we wanted to share the Word of God with him, he said, in a sarcastic tone, "Is it because you think we truckers don't go to church that you follow us around?" We told him that we talk to truckers because we realize that, whether Christian or not, their trucking job keeps them busy and they are not able to attend church services. We also told him how much we appreciate the importance of the work truckers do, bringing vital goods to communities and countries.

Arnold was surprised to hear our complimentary remarks. "So there really are people who see us as important? Many people regard us as trash and call us all sorts of despicable names, and yet we are the ones who bring all the good things you see around, even those clothes you are wearing," he said, pointing at our traditional wraps. "Right now, I am carrying cooking oil for Zambian shops. Families and businesses will be blessed by what I am delivering." He said this with pride, as if he had just discovered how important he was as a truck driver.

Seeing that he was now relaxed and on a friendly footing, we told him, "Yes, you are important to us, and above all, you are important to God. This is why, as His servants, we bring the good news of His love to you." Then we asked him if he was a Christian. He answered that he went to church once in a while. We told him that going to church was good, but that did not make one a Christian. "You need to know God personally," we said. "God is near you. In Jesus Christ, God demonstrated that He is not a God who is far from us, but one who is near. When you are in trouble, you can call upon Him at any time and He will answer you. But first you must have a personal relationship with Him by accepting Jesus in your life as your Saviour and Lord. That is how you become a true Christian." We then asked him if he was willing to surrender his life to Jesus, and he readily agreed, so we led him to the Lord in prayer.

The Atlantic Truck Show was held at the Moncton Coliseum, bringing all the best of the transportation industry together to one location in New Brunswick on May 9-10. Transport For Christ was again present at the event, highlighting our chapel ministry and also promoting our Never Alone campaign. The campaign features a website, DriversMatter.ca, and an online/on call chaplain available all the time so that the driver never needs to feel they have to face whatever their struggles are alone. As part of the promotion we held five draws, each giving away a free Yeti mug, branded with the campaign name and website. These pictures are of the draw winners.

Above Reproach

You don't typically hear the word "reproach" used very often these days. It's not in too many people's vocabulary. Webster's Dictionary defines it as an expression of rebuke and disapproval, a cause or occasion of blame, discredit, or disgrace. The Bible tells us as believers that we are to be "above reproach". So how are we to stay above reproach in our lives? Philippians chapter two gives us some insight when it comes to staying above reproach. I see four things in verses twelve through fifteen that will help us.

Number one, you are to "work out your salvation with fear and trembling". Fear and trembling refer to our attitude towards God. It's not a fear resembling being scared or frightened, but one that comes from reverence, honour and respect. Does God hold the number one spot in your life? God gave us the Holy Spirit to help us.

Number two, "do all things without grumbling or disputing". Complaining is far too often heard nowadays. We shouldn't be complaining about our companies, dispatchers, fellow drivers, traffic, four wheelers, our spouses, our children, the condition of our world, or anything else. This really displays our outlook on life. We have so much to be thankful for; we should be thanking God for all the blessings in our life continually—the first being that Jesus died for our sins and removed the debt we owed to God. That should be enough for us to display joy in our lives.

Number three, "be blameless and innocent". I think we first must define the words "blameless" and "innocent". We shouldn't use the world's standards to define them; we should use God's Word as our guide. God's Word will help us determine right from wrong. Now someone could still blame or accuse you of certain things, but they might not be using the Bible as the basis for their standards or have the entire story. Even Christians sometimes find themselves being distracted by the world. Envy, pride, and gossip can cloud people's judgment.

Number four, "be a light unto the world". This world is far too dark. You don't have to go far to find it. Just read the local papers, listen to the news on the television, or listen to the conversations around the truck stops. I learned a song in church as a child whose lyrics went something like, "This little light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine… Hide it under a bushel? No! I'm gonna let it shine... Don't let Satan blow it out, I'm gonna let shine…" There's more to the song, but you get the idea. We are to shine like a light for Jesus.

If you feel your life is not above reproach, it's not too late to start. Start today. (If you're not sure you're a believer, contact someone from this publication today—check the back page or call the number on the cover.) Allow the Holy Spirit to guide you through the decisions of your day. Keep yourself accountable for your attitude and actions with the help of faithful believers; stay in God's Word and allow it to be the basis for your standards. Then it'll be easier to be "above reproach".

Truck Driver/Retired Navy Lieutenant Chaplain Accepts Position as TFC Director of Discipleship

From a military chaplaincy to a ministry for truck drivers may seem a rather drastic change; however, not for Rev. Darren Milley—or just Darren, as he likes to be called (or " Father Trucker" as he is known by his YouTube channel followers).

The journey that took him to where he is today started in his 20s, when he answered the call to pastor a small church, one that was not able to fully support him financially. As he needed a job to make ends meet, he got a CDL and started driving truck. "That's when I developed a love for truckers," he says. He eventually quit trucking to go to Bible School; after getting a Master's Degree, he pastored a church in Toronto. Then he joined the police force, where he served for ten years before going back to pastoring and church planting. Since money was tight, he updated his AZ license and drove off and on for several years.

A major change happened when he was 46 years old. "Military was in my DNA," he said. "My father served in World War II and my grandfather in World War I, and I always had a love for the troops. When I was 46 years old, God opened the door for me to join the Navy. I went through the training and stayed with the military as a chaplain for seven years!"

"At every stage of my life, God gave me eyes to see the brokenness in people – as a policeman, a pastor, a military chaplain; now He has called me to help truckers grow in their faith."

After his military service, God called him back to Ottawa and opened the door for him to get back into trucking; that's when he bought the truck that he is still driving (shown on the cover). It was back to an old love: as a kid, he would get in trouble in school for not paying attention in class, as he kept looking out the window, watching the trucks driving by. His dad often took him to truck stops to see the trucks.

He is doing regional trucking at the moment. "It's long days, but I am blessed to be home every evening," he said. "I have done both long haul and city work, but find this to be a balance that works best with my ministry."

And that takes us to the heart of what he is doing now: The Father Trucker channel on YouTube. "At every stage of my life," he said, "God gave me eyes to see the brokenness in people – as a policeman, a pastor, a military chaplain; now He has called me to help truckers grow in their faith." As a trucker, he recognizes the unique spiritual challenges faced by long-haul drivers.

With a heart for those who spend their lives on the road, The Father Trucker was born as a ministry dedicated to reaching and teaching truckers to become fully committed, connected, and equipped disciples of Jesus Christ. The inspiration for it was drawn from Luke 14:23, "And the master said to the servant, 'Go out to the highways and hedges and compel people to come in, that my house may be filled.'"

Darren's 2004 Western Star 4900 60 Series Detroit still looks brand new!

Back in the 1990s, he said, there was a high level of appreciation for truckers; this has changed. "Now there is brokenness in so many levels," he noted. "There are about 350,000 truckers in Canada and 3,500,000 in the U.S. These are people who don't 'fit into the mold in the setting of a church or other social settings. They need a 'different lane' to grow, fellowship, and connect with others who understand. How can they be discipled? They have to stick to a schedule, and often, when they reach the reset point and it's Sunday, they're stopped at a truck stop; they can't drive to a church if they wanted to, because there's no parking space for a truck.

"So how do we create a 'space' where we can equip them? There are thousands of Christian truckers out there, potential missionaries behind the wheel. They can minister in places where no one else goes; serve, pray, witness; they can 'send themselves' as ambassadors for Christ."

And helping truckers become ambassadors is what he has dedicated himself to.

About the partnership with TFC, Kevin Scott says that "Darren has been given a special passion for discipling Christian truck drivers, and together, we will develop a plan to help TFC fulfill its whole mission—leading truckers to Jesus and helping Christian drivers grow in their faith." He goes on to say, "A conversation with Darren is like talking to the energizer bunny—he just keeps going and going and going. Get Darren talking about connecting truckers with God and you can see his two passions come together in a very powerful way. I want to encourage you to check out Darren's YouTube channel—there you will see him behind the wheel of his truck (see below) thinking out loud about some of the big ideas of life. Darren is able to relate to drivers like few people can, because he too spends his days behind the wheel."

About The Father Trucker

Asked about the inspiration for the name "The Father Trucker", Darren said his kids came up with it. It hails back to when he used to ride motorcycle with a group of veterans and his biker name was "Papa Smurf".

"Also, as chaplains in the Canadian Armed Forces, we were affectionately called 'Padre' which translates to 'Father' and as someone who loves the deeper, contemplative spiritual disciplines. That's how the concept of The Father Trucker was born. Our heart is to connect truckers to their Heavenly Father." In his posts he discusses how life, trucking, and faith intersect.

In addition to The Father Trucker on YouTube, Darren is working on an app that will serve as a valuable resource for drivers in their spiritual journey.

Nouvelles en Français du Québec

Par Jacques Poirier, Aumônier - Saint-Liboire, Québec

"Si tu traverses les eaux, je serai avec toi;
Et les fleuves, ils ne te submergeront point;
Si tu marche dans le feu, tu ne brûleras pas,
Et la flamme ne t'embrasera pas."
(Ésaie 43:2)

Cette citation de la Parole de Dieu s'adresse à son peuple. Cette portion des Saintes Écritures est une promesse qui s'adresse à son peuple physique et aussi à ceux qui sont devenus une partie intégrante du peuple physique par la grâce que Dieu accorde à tous ceux qui demandent le pardon pour leurs péchés et abandonnent leur vie entre les mains du Seigneur Jésus qui a tout accompli à la croix pour tous ceux qui se tourneront vers Lui.

Notre vie est remplie de situations qui souvent nous dépassent et perturbent nos pensées. Notre réaction à tous ces éléments perturbateurs est dans certains cas imprévisible. Ce qui nous fait sortir de notre zone de confort, nous occasionne des moments d'incompréhension, d'incertitude et souvent d'angoisse. L'être humain a l'habitude de se fier à ce qu'il voit, ce qu'il ressent et à toute la multitude des éléments qui l'entoure. Quoique réagir à ce qui se produit dans notre environnement immédiat soit normal, il ne faut pas que les circonstances de la vie nous détruisent et nous empêchent de nous épanouir.

Maintenant revenons à ce qui est écrit dans la Bible, la Parole de Dieu. Dans (Matthieu : 11, 28 à 30) Venez à Moi, vous tous qui êtes fatigués et chargés et je vous donnerai du repos. Prenez mon joug sur vous et recevez mes instructions car je suis doux et humble de cœur; et vous trouverez du repos pour vos âmes. Car mon joug est doux et léger.

Si tu ne connais pas l'Évangile ce qui veut dire (Bonne Nouvelle), il est peut-être temp pour toi de te pencher sur le sujet. La Bonne Nouvelle pour toi est que Dieu a envoyé son Fils son unique afin que tous ceux qui viendront à lui avec un cœur repentant recevront la vie éternelle et tout ce qui vient avec. Recevoir Jésus comme son Sauveur et Seigneur nous donne accès aux promesses de sa Parole. À aucun endroit dans sa Parole il nous est dit que tout irait bien et nous ne traverserions aucune situation difficile. Ce que nous promet cette Sainte Parole est beaucoup plus puissant et rassurant.

Le verset du livre d'Ésaie cité au début de ce texte nous confirme que nous allons traverser des situations difficiles, compliquées et voir même incontrôlables. La promesse qui nous est faite se rapporte à l'influence que les problématiques de la vie vont avoir sur nous. Toutes les circonstances de la vie ne nous affecteront pas selon ce que nous lisons dans ce passage des Écritures. Je me suis adressé aux personnes qui ne connaissent pas encore l'Évangile, mais si tu connais l'Évangile et que tu es submergé par tes difficultés, ce message est aussi pour toi.

Sur ces mots je vous souhaite d'avoir une vie remplie et heureuse!

Que la paix de Dieu vous accompagne!

HISTORY OUR STORY

Like Solomon—Like Great-grandson Asa

Like Solomon, Asa began his kingship as a strong, God-fearing leader. A great-grandson of the renowned King Solomon, Asa was crowned King of Judah in 910 B.C. and reigned 41 years in Jerusalem. The Bible records that Asa did what was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God (2 Chronicles 14:2). He removed the altars of foreign gods and smashed the sacred stones of the idols. He commanded the people of Judah to seek the Lord and to obey His laws and commands. He even deposed his own grandmother Maacah because she had made a repulsive image of the fertility goddess Asherah (1 Kings 15:13).

The Lord blessed Asa, and Judah enjoyed a time of peace for ten years. During this period, they built fortified cities with towers, gates, and bars. But this time of peace was shattered by an invasion from a vast army of one million soldiers from northern Africa. The Judean army was badly outnumbered and ill-equipped to face such a formidable foe. Asa called out to the Lord: "Lord, there is no one like you to help the powerless against the mighty. Help us, Lord our God, for we rely on you" (2 Chronicles 14:11) . The Lord caused the smaller Judean army to crush the African army, and they returned home victorious and with much plunder.

Your life and story are important, and God has a special part of His Story to write with you specifically in mind. Throughout human history, He has chosen to interact with regular people like you and me to fulfil His plan. Each Christian, each follower of Jesus Christ, has a unique place in His Story.

Upon his return, Asa met with Azariah, a prophet of the true God. Azariah encouraged him to seek the Lord and lead the country to follow God. "Be strong and do not give up, for your work will be rewarded," the prophet said (2 Chronicles 15:7). Encouraged by these words, Asa continued to lead in the ways of the Lord and to rid the country of idol worship.

Amid a chaotic and violent time in world history, Judah enjoyed 25 years of peace on every side. During this time of peace, many from the northern tribes moved from Israel to Judah. Baasha, the King of Israel, started to fortify Ramah, a town strategically located on the main road between Israel and Judah (the southern kingdom) to prevent anyone from entering or leaving Judah.

Asa, instead of seeking the Lord, made a treaty with Ben-Hadad, King of Aram (present-day Syria) to attack the northern cities of Israel and cause the King of Israel to withdraw from his border fortification work at Ramah to focus on the Aram invasion in the north. When this happened, Asa sent his men to Ramah and took the stones and timber and building materials back to Judah to fortify Geba and Mizpah, two towns located not far from the border.

Asa then had a visit from Hanani, a messenger from the Lord, who rebuked him for trusting in foreign leaders rather than trusting in the true God and accused Asa of acting foolishly. He told him from then on, Judah would be at war. Asa was furious and put Hanani in prison. Soon, the king was afflicted with a disease in his feet. He still did not seek help from the Lord but only from his physicians. He died shortly thereafter.

Like his great-grandfather Solomon, Asa started out as a strong leader who followed the Lord and led the nation well. Yet his last days, much like his great-grandfather's, were less than stellar. Despite the sad ending, Asa was a good leader of Judah and encouraged people to follow God.

As followers of Jesus, each of us, in our own sphere of influence, has the opportunity to help shape the lives of others. May we be encouraged to share the love and truth of Jesus for the rest of our journey and finish strong.

Three Drivers, Three Stories, One Joyful Outcome

As reported from Brazil by Chaplain Marcelo da Silva Soares

They Wanted to Be Prayed for Individually

Chaplain Jefferson stepped outside the Paranaguá chapel and with just a mike and a speaker shared a brief message from God's Word, closing with prayer. As we were putting away the equipment, three truck drivers approached asking if we were willing to pray with each one of them individually. We invited them to come inside the chapel and we would pray for them.

After we did that, we explained our mission of reaching truckers with the message of God's love. One of them, Ivan (right on the photo), told us, "When I turned away from Christ years ago, everything in my his life started going wrong. Please help me." We prayed with him and with tears Ivan recommitted his life to Jesus. Please pray for Ivan and his family.

He Was Just Curious When He Walked In—He Walked Out a Changed Man

Trucker Paulo (below right) stepped into the chapel at Posto Platinão in Campo Grande because he was curious what that was all about. Chaplain Cristiano greeted him and asked if he would like to have his blood pressure checked, and Paulo promptly agreed. He commented how much he liked the look of the chapel and, feeling at ease, started opening his heart, sharing how his family was going through a difficult time. He said his wife wanted to leave him because, she said, he was never at home, always on the road for so long, away from her and the children. Paulo said he felt so conflicted because he loves what he does as a trucker, but he doesn't want to lose his family.

Chaplain Cristiano listened as Paulo aired his concerns, then counseled him about the importance of family, and told him that God could help him and guide him as he considered his options. Paulo said that, while he did not go to church, he believed in God and hoped that He could help him. Chaplain Cristiano prayed with him asking God to guide him in his decision, then he asked Paulo if he would like to pray, accepting Jesus Christ as his Saviour, and Paulo heartily said yes!

He Was Thirsty to Know More

Trucker Bruno walked into the chapel eager to learn about our work. We explained what we do, and Bruno had many questions. It soon became evident that he was thirsty to know more about Christ and what a difference He could make in his life.

During our conversation we learned that he was already in his third marriage, and even that one was falling apart, as he and his current wife were in the process of separating. We talked about what the Bible teaches about God's plan for the family. When we started talking about the difference Christ could make in his life, Bruno interrupted us, saying, "I need to accept Jesus and have a change in my life!" Bruno prayed with us, committing his life to Christ as his Saviour.

Thank you for your partnership and support!

Do you know where you will spend eternity? You can – it's as easy as ABC...

A Admit that you have sinned.
"For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23).
"For the wages of sin is death…" (Romans 6:23a).
God loves us and wants a relationship with us; but He is holy and perfect and our sin separates us from Him.

B Believe that Jesus paid God's price for our sin when He died on the cross.
"But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8).
"…but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 6:23b).
God sent Jesus Christ to take the punishment for our sins on Himself, dying on the cross. When He rose from the dead on Easter morning, He broke the power of sin over those who choose to accept Him as their Saviour and Lord.

C Choose to accept Jesus' sacrifice for you and receive the free gift of forgiveness He offers.
"If you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you will be saved…For 'whoever calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved'" (Romans 10:9,13).
"If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9).

You CAN know where you will spend eternity. If you want to begin a relationship with God and allow Him to become your Forgiver and Saviour, pray this prayer and believe it in your heart: "God, I know that I have sinned and need forgiveness. Thank You for sending Jesus to pay the price for my sin so I can have a relationship with You. Today I put my trust in You. Become the leader of my life and help me to follow You from today forward. Amen."

If you prayed this prayer, we would like to help you begin your exciting new journey. Please send us an email to transportforchrist@outlook.com and let us know, so we can help you along this road.
