INSIDE VIEW

Rev. Kevin Scott

Coming up to the start of the new year, it seemed like there were ads everywhere encouraging us to believe that this year would be the best one yet. Many of them focused on how difficult last year had been for so many people, holding out hope that things would finally be different. They urged us to make resolutions – change habits, make better choices – implying that if we just did the right things, we could control how the year would unfold – and sometimes, that's true.

Often the challenges we face are connected to our own decisions – choices we wish we could take back, paths we shouldn't have gone down. But not always. Sometimes life has a way of hitting you out of nowhere. In a single moment, everything changes. You're left trying to process what just happened and wondering how things unraveled so quickly.

That may have already happened to some of you this year. I know, because I've faced it too. Being forced to come to terms with the totally unexpected. It might be a health issue for you or someone you love. It could be financial pressure, work-related stress, relationship strain, or even a spiritual struggle. The details may differ, but the reality is the same – you suddenly find yourself standing in a present you never planned for, uncertain about what the future holds.

In moments like these, optimistic slogans can feel hollow. When the road ahead suddenly changes, we're reminded how little control we actually have. Planning and discipline matter, but life doesn't always follow our route. The Bible is honest about that. Jesus Himself said, "In this world you will have trouble" (John 16:33). Not might—will; but He didn't stop there.

He followed those words with a promise meant for moments exactly like the ones you may be facing now: "But take heart! I have overcome the world." Trouble is real – but it is not the final word. God is. And God is not surprised by what has caught you off guard. He is already present in it. Unexpected seasons can feel even heavier for drivers especially. Long hours alone give worry plenty of room to grow. There's no easy escape from your thoughts when the miles keep rolling by. But the road can also become a sacred place – a place where God meets you, speaks to you, and strengthens you for what's ahead.

Proverbs 16:9 reminds us that "In their hearts humans plan their course, but the Lord establishes their steps." That doesn't mean your plans were foolish or wasted. It means God is still steering – even when it feels like the GPS is saying "recalculating."

Scripture is filled with people whose lives took sudden, painful turns. Joseph was betrayed and imprisoned. David was hunted while already anointed king. Paul was shipwrecked while serving God faithfully. None of them chose their detours, but God used them to shape something deeper – faith, endurance, and hope that could not be shaken.

If your year has already taken a turn you never saw coming, you are not failing. You are being invited to trust God in a new way. And remember, you don't have to clean things up before bringing them to Him. The Bible tells us, "Cast all your anxiety on Him because He cares for you" (1 Peter 5:7). Talk to God out loud in the cab. Tell Him exactly what's weighing on you. Let Him carry what you can't. You also don't have to face what you're going through alone. You matter to God and you matter to us. God never intended us to do life by ourselves or to carry heavy burdens on our own. Ecclesiastes 4:9-10 reminds us that when one person stumbles, another can help them up. Strength grows in connection.

That's why DriversMatter.ca exists. If you feel like you don't have anyone right now who you can talk to, there is someone ready to listen. We have chaplains available to talk, pray, and walk with you through whatever you're facing. If you need to talk today, call 249-506-0100. A simple conversation can be the first step toward hope.

The road ahead may not look like what you planned – but you don't travel it alone. God sees every mile you drive, every burden you carry, and every quiet prayer you whisper. Trust Him with today, and let Him take care of tomorrow.

The Power of Prayer on the Road

By Chaplain Peter Kandu

Chaplain Peter Kandu

I asked Chaplain Caleb, who was manning the office, if we could go preaching to truck drivers in a queue along the so called "Bypass Road"—the alternative road that goes to the Kasumbalesa border and runs parallel to the main road about three kilometers apart. He was happy to go along.

There we met four Zambian truck drivers. One of them, Kambole, said, "Chaplains, I have a testimony to share with you." We urged him to continue, and he told us this story:

"About a month ago, I was in the company of other drivers at a truck park when you came to share the Word of God with us. You mainly spoke on family values and said that, even when we leave our wives at home, we could still feel their presence with us wherever we go if we always remember to pray for them and the children.

"You also said that some drivers seem to be followed by bad luck and do not seem to experience God's favour because, when they are away from their homes, they seem to forget that they are married and behave irresponsibly. When you were preaching to us, I was not fully receptive of what you were saying as I was having some differences with my wife. However, when I was alone, my spirit was troubled and your words cut through my heart. I asked God for forgiveness and that He would show me how I could start praying for my wife when I was not at home.

"Upon returning home, the first thing I did was to ask my wife to forgive me for all the wrongs I might have done to her. I said I would remember to pray for her whenever I go on my trips. I cannot describe the joy that filled her heart and brightened her face! Now there is peace in our home. I told myself that when I met you again, I would ask that you lead me to Jesus. Please continue to help us truck drivers with the Word of God."

I told Kambole that the moment he decided to believe in God he was saved, and he did not necessarily need to wait for us to lead him to Jesus. I said, "However, for your conscience's sake, we will pray with you a prayer of accepting Jesus." We shared a brief gospel message to ensure that all four drivers understood what salvation meant. When we asked who was ready to receive Jesus, only Kambole and one other driver stepped forward, as the other two said they were already Christians.

About the author: Chaplain Peter Kandu is one of the original Driver/Chaplains. He drove for many years as an evangelist for TFC/GOSEMI and then he left his driving job in the fall of 2024 to get the ministry in DRC started. He has family in the DRC and was able to pioneer the ministry there. He also has gotten the Carpentry Centre up and running and is currently overseeing that part of the ministry. He left a respected position as a senior driver who was undergoing management training to start the DRC ministry.

HISTORY OUR STORY

Elisha – Not Just an Ordinary Farmer

How likely is it, that a farmer from the Jordan Valley in Israel would have a significant role in God's story? Elisha lived during the 9th century BC, a time marked by political instability, ongoing conflicts and wars with neighboring countries, and a divided nation that had turned its back on the true and living God. Elisha did not come from royalty or from a priestly lineage. When we first meet him in 1 Kings 19:19, he was plowing a field with 12 yoke of oxen (can you imagine trying to back up that rig!).

Elijah, a well-known prophet of the Lord, came to the field where Elisha was working and put his cloak around him, symbolically appointing him as his successor. Elisha immediately accepted God's call to serve, kissed his parents farewell, and left the farm to follow Elijah, becoming his assistant. For years he humbly worked alongside the older prophet, watching, learning, and serving.

Before Elijah was taken by God up to heaven (2 Kings 2:9-11), he asked Elisha what he could do for him. Elisha asked for a double portion of Elijah's spirit because he knew that without God's power, his efforts to serve the Lord would be fruitless. His request was granted, and from that point on God used Elisha to bless many.

Your life and story are important, and God has a special part of His Story to write with you specifically in mind. Throughout human history, He has chosen to interact with regular people like you and me to fulfil His plan. Each Christian, each follower of Jesus Christ, has a unique place in His Story.

Elisha's miracles were not flashy displays that drew attention to himself. They were done quietly, without fanfare, and always to meet the real needs of real people. One of his first recorded miracles took place in the city of Jericho, where the water supply was contaminated. He simply asked for a bowl of salt, threw it into the spring, saying, "This is what the Lord says: I have healed this water. Never again will it cause death or make the land unproductive" (2 Kings 2:21).

Later he helped a poor widow. She owed money to a creditor who threatened to take her two sons as slaves to satisfy the debt. Elisha asked her to gather empty jars from her neighbours and pour the little oil that she had into the borrowed jars. She obeyed and the oil continued to flow until every jar was full. She was then able to use the oil to satisfy her debt and save her sons (2 Kings 4:7). Another time, in the town of Shunem, Elisha was used by God to raise a young boy from the dead. Again, there was no public display. Elisha simply prayed to the Lord in the privacy of the home of a faithful and generous mother, and God restored the child's life (2 Kings 4).

There was one time when Elisha could have gained notoriety. Naaman, a powerful and highly respected Syrian commander, had leprosy and came to Elisha for healing. Elisha did not even come out to meet Naaman, but just sent his servant with instructions for him to wash himself seven times in the Jordan River and he would be healed—and he was. Elisha was used in powerful ways to demonstrate God's love and care and power. God is not limited by our background or job description. He used an ordinary farmer to do extraordinary work because Elisha was available and obedient to the call of God. As we examine these Bible stories, we find time and again that God has roles uniquely suited for regular people doing regular jobs.

May we be encouraged to be available to the Lord in the daily routine of our lives. Each of us, as a follower of Jesus, has a specific role to play in sharing the good news of His love and grace and the gift of forgiveness and eternal life with those in our sphere of influence.

From Family Struggles... TO HOPE IN CHRIST!

By Chaplain Dr. Norbert Mbwiliza

Nuhu is a long-distance truck driver who had been carrying more than just heavy cargo on the road. For many years, he struggled with serious family challenges that deeply affected his peace of mind. His home life was filled with tension, misunderstanding, and emotional pain, and this burden followed him everywhere he went. When I first met him, it was clear that he was exhausted—not only physically, but also spiritually and emotionally. As we talked, he opened his heart and shared how the problems in his family had drained his joy and left him feeling hopeless. He had tried many ways to fix the situation, but nothing seemed to bring lasting peace.

During our conversation, I shared with him the love of God and the message of salvation through Jesus Christ. I explained how Jesus restores broken lives, heals wounded hearts, and brings peace that the world cannot give. As we continued talking, Nuhu listened attentively, and I could see that his heart was being touched.

That day, something powerful happened. Nuhu made a decision that changed his life forever. With great joy, he accepted Jesus Christ as his personal Lord and Savior. He prayed sincerely, surrendering his life to Christ and asking God to take control of his family situation. After the prayer, Nuhu was visibly happy. He expressed deep relief and hope, saying that for the first time in a long while, he felt peace in his heart. Though his family challenges had not instantly disappeared, he now had faith, hope, and a new direction in life. He left encouraged, believing that God would restore his family and guide him in every step.

Great Things Coming to Rio Verde

As we reported in the previous edition of this magazine, God opened an amazing door for ministry in Western Brazil. Chaplain Marcelo had travelled to the city of Rio Verde to check on the possibility of future ministry at a local truck stop—and before he returned home, he had been invited to set up a chapel at the Mahle Truck Stop and had a chaplain to lead it! Here, Chaplain Marcelo gives an update.

At the beginning of December I spent a few days in the city of Rio Verde, when we officially inaugurated a new chapel. We began the work by serving dinner to the truck drivers, and 42 joined us! After dinner I gave a brief devotional and the Holy Spirit touched the hearts of four drivers, who surrendered their lives to Jesus Christ as their Saviour! They stood to give witness of their decision. In the photo above is trucker Carlos (in green shirt) rejoicing with Pastor Edson and Ditmar, leader of a local men's group; in the photo on left, Chaplain Fabiano (left) with truckers Sérgio, Marcos and Eduardo, with me on the right as I welcomed them into God's family. We are confident that God will do great things in Rio Verde. Please pray for this new mission field.

4th Annual Truck Driver Appreciation: — Honouring the Heroes of the Road —

By Chaplain Brian Teputepu

"Thank you"—two small words, but hard to hear in our world—especially as related to truckers.

The 4th Truck Driver Appreciation, held on December 19th and 20th across the Manatrade Truck Park, brought together drivers from across the region for two days of care, prayer, support, and celebration. It was more than an event—it was a reminder to drivers that they are seen, valued, and loved!

Ministering Through Gift-giving

ACTSA chaplains, accompanied by volunteers from local churches, ministered to drivers as they visited a table laid before them with gifts and meal packs. One driver commented, "It's amazing that we have not experienced this in South Africa, where things are better, but in Zimbabwe…it shows people truly led by the Spirit of God to demonstrate love to drivers."

Fellowship and Joy

Music, testimonies, laughter, and shared meals turned the truck park into a place of family. Drivers from Zimbabwe, Zambia, Malawi and beyond connected, prayed for each other, and shared stories from the road.

Impact That Goes Beyond Two Days

Over the two days, hundreds of drivers were reached and dozens were prayed for. Some committed their lives to the Lord and countless hearts were encouraged. "I will always remember this when the road gets hard," said one driver while climbing back into his truck.

Looking Forward

This was the fourth year of Truck Driver Appreciation, and ACTSA's vision is growing. The dream is to make this a strong, annual event in the region, reaching more borders, more truck parks, and more drivers every year. We pray also for more companies to adopt the culture of recognizing and appreciating these unsung heroes.

To every driver who came, every volunteer who served, and every partner who supported—thank you for making the 4th Truck Driver Appreciation a celebration of love on the highway!

A Small Gift, A Big Thanks: Honouring Drivers at Christmas

This Christmas season, chapels across Canada became places of quiet gratitude and surprising wonder as partner churches joined us in a simple but meaningful mission: to remind drivers just how deeply they are appreciated. At a time of year when nearly everything we enjoy arrives by truck, it was a simple way to say thank you to the men and women who make it happen and to let them know they matter to God – and to us!

Churches, even those far from our chapels, embraced this calling in beautiful and creative ways. Compass Point Bible Church in Burlington, ON (top photo – praying before delivering the bags) prepared 125 appreciation bags, each filled with gifts and snacks. Kevin Scott and Dan Chatham delivered them to the Trenton terminal of Erb Transport (photo on right, Kevin with Sheldon Wheeler from Erb Transport) , where TFC is piloting a Workplace Chaplaincy program. Every employee received a bag, as a visible reminder that their work has dignity, purpose, and value.

Journey Community Church in Collingwood took a different approach, equipping their congregation with packed bags and inviting them to personally bless drivers they encountered on the road. In everyday moments and unexpected places, generosity became a living testimony.

Several hundred bags and stockings were shared, each carrying the same message: you are not forgotten, you are appreciated, and you do not have to walk life alone. Many drivers were genuinely surprised – some even hesitated, thinking they were only allowed to take one item out of the bag, not realizing the entire gift was meant just for them!

Our chaplains and volunteers met drivers who were just heading out and would not be home for Christmas. For some, this was the only gift they would receive this year. Others were stirred by memories of kindness from long ago. One driver shared how a stocking he received years earlier at another truck stop had stayed with him. In a moment only God could orchestrate, the volunteer listening realized it had been his late wife who had given that gift – a simple act of love that had endured across time and loss.

The care even reached beyond the road. Shortly after Christmas, a driver's wife called the number on the Drivers Matter card in the bag to say thank you. Then, hesitantly, she asked if it was alright for a driver's wife to call. With her husband back on the road and family far away, she was simply grateful to speak with someone during a very lonely season.

Moments like these remind us that appreciation carries spiritual weight – and that behind every truck is a person, and often a family, making unseen sacrifices. This Christmas, kindness became a quiet witness, and love showed up in ordinary places, pointing to a God who travels every road with us.

Quel bon moment pour discuter des circonstances qui pourraient modifier nos états d'âme!

En effet les actualités et tout le battage médiatique autant que les commentaires sur les réseaux sociaux sont à certains moments dérangeants. En ce début d'année la toile s'est enflammée et les discussions sont virulentes. Des personnes qui ne se sont jamais vues vivent des conflits d'opinion sur des sujets qui ne concernent ni l'un ni l'autre. La fièvre qui est provoquée par un événement survenu la plupart du temps dans un endroit que nous ne pouvons même pas identifier sur une carte géographique provoque des malaises inimaginables. Nous avons tellement été bousculé dans ce que nous croyions tous impensable que nous en sommes venus à briser des amitiés profondes, pour des querelles par lesquelles nous ne sommes affectés d'aucune manière.

Me sentant moi-même bousculé par ce phénomène, j'ai pris du temps dans la prière pour consulter Dieu et sa Parole afin de trouver quelque chose de réconfortant et rassurant qui puisse calmer mon âme. J'ai été conduit dans le livre de Jérémie le prophète qui a eu des paroles assez dures à l'égard du peuple de Dieu. Le contexte de ce que je vais vous exposer révèle Dieu entrain de punir son peuple à cause de son infidélité. Jérémie chapitre dix -sept verset cinq nous dit : (Maudit soit l'homme qui se confie dans l'homme, qui prend la chair pour son appui, et qui détourne son cœur de l'Éternel). Force est de constater que de nos jours, c'est pratiquement l'ensemble de la population planétaire qui vit sans Dieu. Je ne peux que constater les dégâts. Même dans la population qui s'identifie de Dieu, plusieurs se laissent entrainer dans cette vague de disputes inconsidérées.

Juste un peu plus loin dans le chapitre dix-sept au verset sept, Jérémie nous dit : (Béni soit l'homme qui se confie dans l'Éternel, et dont l'Éternel est l'espérance)! Notre génération a rejeté Dieu et nous nous attendons à la bénédiction. Certainement que si ne voulons pas être ballottés et bousculés par tout ce qui est véhiculé un peu partout tant aux informations que sur les réseaux sociaux, nous devons nous tourner vers quelque chose de solide, de véritable. Dans un premier temps, la chose à faire est de se tourner vers Dieu d'un cœur sincère et de réclamer la vérité, la lumière qui nous éclairera sur le sentier de la vie. En imaginant que chacun d'entre nous se tourne vers Dieu et demande la révélation de sa Parole pour chacune de nos vies, nous allons certainement recevoir une paix que le monde ne connait pas. Cette étape franchise, venir à Jésus sincèrement et reconnaitre que sans Lui il nous est impossible d'être agréable à Dieu. Jésus est venu sur cette terre pour sauver l'humanité. Jésus donne la paix dans la tempête.

Sur ces mots je vous souhaite d'avoir une vie remplie et heureuse!

Que la paix de Dieu vous accompagne!

Prayer Requests

One of the greatest privileges of being a believer is having the opportunity to pray with those that we meet and speak with. There is nothing better or more effective than going before the God of the universe with our concerns. I try not to leave any conversation or meeting without finishing it with prayer. Needless to say, we've prayed for many things and in many different situations. We've prayed with very loud background noise, people bumping up against us in a small hallway, quietly in the office of owners and dispatch officers, in the front seats of trucks, and many other places. We pray for things like drivers' safety, families, marriages, children (both young and old), finances, struggles and much more. It's one of the most important things we can do as believers.

As good (and needed) as all those requests are, I'd like to talk to you about an alternative method of prayer. Several of my mentors over the years have told me that I should "Pray Scripture." That means that I take a passage from God's Word and pray that into my life and the lives of others. Please allow me to share one with you from Philippians chapter three, verses nine through eleven.

Verse nine says "…that I may be found in him [Christ]". Pray that you'll always be found in Christ. What a great place to be. Then it says, "not having a righteousness of my own"—meaning there's nothing you can do to earn God's favor or grace. Then it says, "but that which is through faith in Christ". Pray that your faith remains in Christ, and "the righteousness which comes from God on the basis of faith". The word "righteousness" means to be in a right relationship with God, which starts with putting and keeping your faith in Christ. Pray that you remain in that right relationship daily. Verse ten says, "that I may know him". Pray that you grow daily in your knowledge of Christ. It goes on to say that we may know "the power of his resurrection." Did you know that, if you've asked Jesus to be the Lord of your life, you have the Holy Spirit living inside you? Yes, the same power that raised Jesus from the grave lives inside of you. There's nothing you can't do by living in that power each and every day.

The next section might be a little harder, but we must be willing to share in "the fellowship of his sufferings." Living our lives as unto God might not be the most popular thing to do. Are you willing to do that? Pray that you are. Then in verse eleven it says that we do this "in order that [we] might attain to the resurrection from the dead." We must pray every day that we are dead to the world and all of its pleasures and resurrected as a new creature—one that remains in Christ, stays in a right relationship with God, and is willing to do whatever it takes to accomplish that today.

If you're not sure if you've ever put your faith in Jesus and made Him the Lord of your life, don't wait another minute. Call the number on the cover of this magazine or stop at a chapel to talk to a chaplain.

A Closing Word
From the Canadian Director

Rev. Daniel Chatham

Thank you—eight letters comprising two simple words. Yet, when genuinely spoken and properly received, they carry transformative power. The positive benefits of expressing gratitude are experienced by both those giving and those receiving authentic appreciation. Gratitude "can lead to profound positive changes in mood, resilience, and overall wellbeing…The benefits of gratitude are endless." * One of those many benefits of expressing gratitude is the recognition of personal value.

As written about in other parts of this magazine, we at TFC have been attempting to foster this sense of appreciation for you in the transportation industry. Over the Christmas holidays we said "thank you" to many drivers at our locations across Canada. One driver, who admitted he had not been at his best recently, received a bag at one of our distribution locations. The appreciation represented by a simple Christmas bag was so impactful that the driver went out of his way to come back to the distribution area later to say thank you. Those who were there when this driver returned were shocked by the impact of a simple gift of appreciation.

If we did not see you at Christmas time to say thanks, please hear it now. Thank you for all you do to keep every essential product moving in our country. Without you, there wouldn't have been Christmas dinners, presents, or fuel for travelling to visit family.

One of the difficulties with trucking is that it's often a thankless job. As a driver or a terminal worker, you rarely see or connect with the ones who receive the benefit of your work. There is no "thank you" moment that comes about in a normal day. When people see a truck on the road, they don't see a "container" full of all the things they need to eat, work, build their homes, or repair their automobiles. They see a large vehicle that, at this time of year, throws road grime on the windshield of their car, making travel more difficult. I believe if they could "see" what you are hauling and how essential it is for their lives, they would say thanks and express how valuable you are to all of us.

If you would like to hear a word of appreciation for your work, or want to explore your deep value to God, go to DRIVERSMATTER.CA and call or text an online chaplain, or visit one of our chapels. We would love the opportunity to express our gratitude to you personally.

Partnership Information

This ministry to the trucking industry is only possible thanks to generous donations from people just like you. Tax-deductible donations can be made in one of the following ways:

In Canada:
Online: Go to www.TransportForChrist.ca and choose "donate"
E-transfer: Send to donate@transportforchrist.ca

In the United States:
Go to www.gracechurchga.org/give; click the drop down menu and choose Overseas Ministries (TFC).

Or scan the QR code on the right.

Thank you for your partnership and support!

Do you know where you will spend eternity? You can – it's as easy as ABC...

A Admit that you have sinned.
"For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23).
"For the wages of sin is death…" (Romans 6:23a).
God loves us and wants a relationship with us; but He is holy and perfect and our sin separates us from Him.

B Believe that Jesus paid God's price for our sin when He died on the cross.
"But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8).
"…but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 6:23b).
God sent Jesus Christ to take the punishment for our sins on Himself, dying on the cross. When He rose from the dead on Easter morning, He broke the power of sin over those who choose to accept Him as their Saviour and Lord.

C Choose to accept Jesus' sacrifice for you and receive the free gift of forgiveness He offers.
"If you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you will be saved…For 'whoever calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved'" (Romans 10:9,13).
"If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9).

You CAN know where you will spend eternity. If you want to begin a relationship with God and allow Him to become your Forgiver and Saviour, pray this prayer and believe it in your heart: "God, I know that I have sinned and need forgiveness. Thank You for sending Jesus to pay the price for my sin so I can have a relationship with You. Today I put my trust in You. Become the leader of my life and help me to follow You from today forward. Amen."

If you prayed this prayer, we would like to help you begin your exciting new journey. Please send us an email to transportforchrist@outlook.com and let us know, so we can help you along this road.

Need to talk to someone? Need prayer? Or just some 'down' time? Stop by a TFC Chapel! We're there to serve you.
